SEEKING THE TRUTH

Every man, woman and child who reads newspapers was impressed by the charges preferred by Governor Cox in which he alleged that the Republican Campaign Committee had a campaign fund of fifteen million dollars. Not so much because of the size of it but rather because of the publicity attendant to the heralded exposure. It will be recalled that a great pilgrimage of the faithful went to Pittsburgh to be eye-witness and ear-hearers. For two hours they sat under the spell of soap-box oratory and with such skill and dexterity was the subject handled that supposition appeared as fact and surmise as certainty. Mr. Cox made the statement as one of fact and then proceeded to assume that this great amount of money was to be spent illegally, crookedly and for corruptive purposes. Thus his masterful presentation of the case Mr. Cox put the Republican managers on the defensive.

Today we have the other side. The evidence speaks for itself. It is not for us to render a verdict for our readers. We only wish to urge them to read the evidence as it was taken under oath and under parliamentary rules where Billingsgate, gallery plays and wholesale denunciation of this and that are not permitted to cloud the real issue. Platform argument is always more propaganda. We have all sat under the mystic charm and spell of the platform orator and while he was talking we nodded our approval and loosened our purse strings. But once we break away from his presence and sit down to reason for ourselves we find that his logic is held together only by the woven chain of partisan evidence.

Mr. Cox presented to his Pittsburgh hearers a document which would not be admitted before any court as evidence because it was not authenticated. Mr. Cox represented it to be authentic but gave no proof. He gave no evidence to show how he came in possession of it and no evidence to show that it was "real."

Now read the testimony of Mr. Hays. Remember that Mr. Hays is testifying under oath and with a knowledge that his every word is to be printed broadcast and that the conduct of the campaign in the future will have to tie up with his statements. His answers are direct and to the point. He says that $4,000,000 more will be required to properly advertise Mr. Harding.

Now read the testimony of Mr. Cummins the Democratic chairman. He tells the truth about the campaign expenditures of the Democratic Party in 1916 when he says they were almost $2,500,000. But how about his statement that only a sum one-fifth larger will be required to carry on the Cox campaign? Is it not true that Mr. Wilson was the candidate in 1916 and that in conducting the campaign from the White House it could be conducted much cheaper than from the middle west? Is it not true that every Federal office holder was giving his time to the forwarding of the Wilson candidacy? Is it not true that the Creel organization supported by the government was printing tons of publicity matter expounding to the people of the country on the virtues of Woodrow Wilson and the desirability of making him the dictator of the world? Is it not true that every governmental agency in the country was boosting his candidacy? In this campaign the Cox campaign must largely pay its own way. Anybody with any common sense will know that the dollar of 1916 will not buy fifty cents worth today. The printing will cost more than double. Hotels and traveling expenses will be more than double. Public speakers will cost more than double. Bands and halls will be more than double. Yet Mr. Cummins guesses that twenty per cent. more will be required this year over 1916. It is indeed a guess and judging from costs of today we venture to predict that when the books are closed the Democratic committee will have spent dollar for dollar with the Republican Committee.

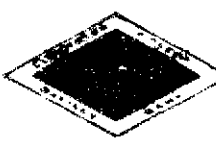

There has not been one whit of evidence produced in support of the charge that a few are seeking to buy the presidency or

The Motive

Pennsylvanians felt kindly to Mr. Cox for recognizing our state by coming into it to make his "disclosures." Thus he recognized our power at the polls. But what was the real motive? Was it that Mr. Cox is a great apostle of right, justice and honesty? Was it just a political grand stand play?

Or was it a deliberate attempt to wear our citizens away from a just and righteous indignation over certain conditions which are of Democratic making.

Pennsylvania people have not been strong for the Wilson league plan and just prior to the announcement of the Cox speech at Pittsburgh they had welcomed the news that Mr. Harding favored "staying out."

And Pennsylvanians have grown tired of the prohibition enforcement fiasco by which favored politicians in Scranton, Clearfield, Elk counties and other points are permitted to buy thousands of gallons of liquor under medicinal permit. This indignation at the shameful flouting of one of the most beneficent laws in the history of mankind has spread to all four corners of the United States. In the west and in the east Mr. Cox saw the flood of liquor loosed by the gates of the administration law enforcement officers approaching in political death dealing waves.

It was to stem this tide that Mr. Cox and his managers saw the similarity between the liquor flood and the slush fund and hoped to stop the wave of "dry" sentiment by throwing against it counter charges of a nature that would naturally carry great weight with those who have the morals of the nation at heart and want real enforcement. They staged the fight in Pennsylvania but the liquor flood brushed the slush fund aside and will continue to be the big issue.

Yes, Mr. Cox says he is for law enforcement but he also says that he is in full accord with Mr. Wilson; will continue his way of doing things; be an understudy. He approves of the Wilson administration and defends it. Not one word does he say about enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment other than to approve the present enforcement.

Mr. Cox cannot becloud the real issues of the campaign by grand stand plays. On the league and liquor the campaign must be fought. A man is known by the company he keeps. Can you find a liquor man rooting for Harding? Is not every man in Pennsylvania who has a medical permit for liquor a Democrat? Do you know a man who wants a modification of the Volstead act? He is for Cox, is he not?

Thank God the women are to have a vote.

THE MORTGAGE

Writers of the old-time melodrama and of the cheap novel that preceded it made much capital of the mortgage. In their hands the claim against the old homestead or the newly-built cottage of the poor but virtuous young hero became a weapon as deadly as the modern high explosive bomb. According to their way of presenting the matter, the man who put a mortgage on his land or house placed himself at the mercy of some miserly old Shylock who henceforth devoted himself to plotting the ruin of the mortgagee in order that he might possess himself of the property in question.

The crux of many a ten-cent matinee hinged upon the appearance of this old skinflint to dispossess the unfortunate widow or the struggling young hero on the day the mortgage fell due, with no funds in bank with which to meet it. And doubtless a lot of that sort of thing actually was practiced in real life in the early days of the republic.

But not so now. Today the mortgage is a recognized business instrument of vital importance in 75 per cent. of all real estate transactions. It is no a sign of poverty but of thrift, and nobody forecloses a mortgage except when driven to it by dire extremity.

And so the ancient horror of the mortgage that might spell ruin has been dissipated by the understanding that the mortgage has become a means of property holding and ownership that without it would be impossible.

It is a real pleasure to receive such a letter as is directed to this paper today from the Osceola miner. The editor knows as well as anybody else and better than most people that no more glaring falsehood was ever stated than that miners must have liquor to do good work. His six years residence in a mining town was enough to furnish proof of his previous belief that a miner was no different from any other man and that his greatest enemy was the fellow who insisted on making a few dollars by telling a court that a license was necessary to keep the men contented. Neither is there anything wrong with Osceola or any other town which happens to be the abiding place of those who are the truckers of booze. Rather is it up to the good people of the balance of the county to take such steps as will for all time put a stop to the farcical enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Straw votes show the way the wind doesn't blow.

Have Drak Hair And Look Young

Don't Stay Gray. Nobody can tell when you darken gray faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it thru your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

FOOD FOR THE ILL.

Indigestion, stomach trouble of various kinds as well as intestinal troubles have so many forms and causes that it is never safe to trust one's own ideas in regard to the kind of food one should eat. A physician after diagnosis will give a list of the various foods it is safe to eat; however it is probable that toast which is lightly toasted on the outside soft and full of moisture inside is unwholesome for the most healthy stomach. These should be made of bread at least two days old cut in half inch thick and dried for a few moments in the oven to remove any moisture then while still hot from the oven slowly toasted a golden brown. Too many cooks serve toast by the recipe given by the small boy--toast and until black then scrape it at the kitchen sink.

Eggs, milk and combinations of eggs and milk when carefully prepared in regard to the one who is to eat the dish are foods which will be eaten with comfort.

Custards of all kinds cooked just long enough to be smooth and velvety are not unwholesome though served often.

Fried foods of all kinds should be eliminated as they are especially hard to digest.

Fruit jellies, jellies, gelatine dishes and sea moss are desserts which may be commonly served in ordinary cases.

Apple Custard.—Take five well beaten eggs add a quart of milk and one pint of strained apple sauce. Sweeten and flavor to taste and bake carefully until firm. Set the pan of custard into a pan of hot water to bake.

CARE FOR WOUNDED BUDDIES

Nation-Wide Movement to Aid and Cheer Thousands of Wounded Men Now in Hospitals.

A nation-wide movement to care for the 17,000 ex-service men who are now in hospitals suffering from disabilities incurred in the service, has been launched by the American Legion through its Americanism commission. Bulletins have been issued to state chairmen asking them to organize local Legion post committees to co-operate with the hospitals for the entertainment of the men in the wards, and for their care after discharge.

Efforts will be made to provide visitors for those men who are confined to hospitals to mitigate the loneliness of their enforced inactivity, and in this part of the program the Women's Auxiliary is expected to be of particular value.

To men who are discharged individual assistance will be given by members of the local Legion post in securing work and in straightening out any difficulties that may arise in the matter of compensation, insurance and so on. A system of interstate co-operation will provide for every man who leaves a hospital in one state, a welcome in the state for which he is bound.

"If there is any one thing that all members of the Legion are agreed on more than anything else, it is that wounded men should be generously taken care of," declared Arthur Woods, chairman of the Americanism commission. "It is the personal contact with the man that counts. We must show him that we are genuine friends. And certainly, no man ever needs a shove upward more than a discharged, disabled service man who has to make up so much lost time under such tremendous handicaps. I know you will agree that this is a challenge to service on our part which we, of the Legion, will not ignore."

WAR ENDED KENTUCKY FEUDS

Youths and Mountaineer Parents Who Were Estranged, Brought Together at County Reunion.

The war has brought peace to the embattled mountaineers of the famous feudist counties of Garrard and Lincoln in Kentucky. For more than a generation these neighboring but not neighboring counties were estranged—the inhabitants of one being sworn enemies of the natives of the other and many were the brushings between them, which, though not bloodless altogether, happily produced no fatalities.

Then came the war and the youth of Garrard and Lincoln counties marched off together. They went overseas together and fought the Boche together, sharing together the dangers, discomforts and great moments of battle. The sea stood between them and the old quarrel at home. Little by little the ancient grudge faded away until the boys from Lincoln and the boys from Garrard were actually fraternizing in the rest billets back of the line.

They came home together. For the moment they had had enough fighting. They could see no point in keeping alive the traditional quarrel between their respective counties. So, recently officers of the American Legion posts of Stanford, county seat of Lincoln county and Lancaster, county seat of Garrard county, got together and agreed upon a grand reunion and "peace" celebration of the residents of both counties. The affair was held under the auspices of the Legion and old feudists whose sons shared the same shell hole together in France, shook hands for the first time in their lives and called it quits.

VETERAN OF TWO GREAT WARS

Adolph Lowe of Lansdale, Pa., Participated in Both the Civil and World Conflicts.

With the war between North and South in which he fought more than 50 years behind him, Adolph L. Lowe of Lansdale, Pa., in 1917 again entered the service of his country in the war with Germany and today at seventy-nine is one of the most remarkable members of the American Legion. His age, naturally enough, debilitated him from going to sea three years ago with the navy, which he joined as a carpenter's mate and he was assigned to the base at Cherry-stone Island, Va., and later to the Norfolk navy aviation center, the Portsmouth naval hospital and the Virginia Beach rifle range.

Although he was denied sea service in the World war, Mr. Lowe saw enough action to last most men the rest of their lives during the Civil war. He took part in the bombardment of Fort Sumter and saw the Merrimac ablaze. Later in the blockade of Charleston and in naval engagements along the coast he went through hard and severe fighting.

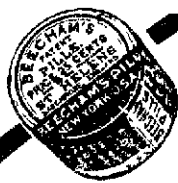

Mr. Lowe says that the sea stories of Benmore Cooper first brought to him the desire to follow the sea for a career. In 1859 he shipped for South America and the following year in Rio de Janeiro he swam a mile to the shore to sign as a midshipman on the U. S. sloop of war Sentinel.

He commenced his career 12 years ago with the Vitaphone star family and has never strayed from the fold. "The Wolf," visualized from Eugene Walters' famous stage play, and "The Fortune Hunter," from Winchell Smith's play, have been the means of emphasizing Mr. Williams' ability and popular attraction recently.

Getting 'em ready for school

As the opening date for school approaches we experience about the same feeling—not that we're going to enroll, but we're sort of "keyed up" in preparation. This "keying up" is going to be a great thing for the parents of Clearfield and vicinity. We want your boy to be well dressed whether he starts in a ward school, Junior High or the High School. POWER, sturdiness and dependability have been qualities of Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Cars from the time that the name Buick first became linked with the automobile industry. Today, in equal measure as in the past, the Buick Motor Company is dedicated to a continuance of the policy that has caused the Buick car to occupy the position it holds in the public mind.

To all that the name Buick has meant in twenty years of automobile history, the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick brings that grace of movement, that refinement of every line and feature, that sheer beauty of design which inspire a pride of ownership in a fine motor car.

The new Buick line comprises seven models, one for every possible demand. Each has the famed Buick Valve-in-Head Motor, as rugged and powerful as ever, yet refined into a mechanism of unusual quietness.

The improved radiator, hood and cowl lines give a finished touch of trimness to the body, yet without any sacrifice of Buick individuality.

A more resilient spring suspension gives these new Buick models a riding comfort as delightful as their exterior appearance is pleasing.

Each of these seven models has its own value particularly adapted to a distinct class of service. All possess those inherent Buick qualities that assure the owner the uninterrupted use of his investment.

THE PERSIAN LILACS.

"It is almost time that we should go," said the Persian lilacs in the old-fashioned garden. "Still, our small green leaves will be with you and they will stay until the autumn comes, but we, the flowers, must leave, for the summer is on now and we are ready to go. We like to stay until the very last of spring, right up to the early summer. But then we must leave."

"So must we," said the double white narcissus flowers. They were very fragrant, and as they spoke a lovely narcissus fragrance filled the whole air.

"We leave our leaves, too," said the little myrtle flowers. They were so deep a blue and so sweet and dainty, snuggled among their vine leaves.

"But," they added, "our leaves will be used for birthday wreaths. They make such good wreaths, as there are long pieces of us like vines."

"Yes," they continued, "we must be going soon, though some of our blossoms do come out once in a while through the summer, to tell the garden flowers and the myrtle leaves that the whole myrtle family will blossom next spring again."

"How fine our leaves are for the birthday wreaths," continued the myrtle wreaths; "ah, we will do our part throughout the summer."

"We know you will," said the myrtle blossoms.

"We must be leaving soon, too," said the pink flowering almond.

"You have looked so lovely in your soft pink dresses," said the double narcissus flowers. "You dress in such a springlike fashion. You look so lovely and so gay and so bright. You really do know just how to dress in the spring. And all the pink flowering almond bushes are so lovely."

"Ah, we're very grateful to you for saying so," the flowering almonds answered. "We love the springtime, and we love seeing the other flowers. We love the myrtle blossoms and the white lilacs and the purple lilacs and the dear Persian lilacs and the jonquils

"You Look So Lovely."

As the flowering almonds mentioned the different flowers, they all bowed their pretty heads and said: "Thank you dear, flowering almonds," and there was a lovely fragrance of all the spring flowers throughout the garden as they whispered their thanks, which were carried about by the breeze brothers.

"You know," said one of the flowering almonds, "I think a special vote of thanks should be given to the Persian lilacs. Every year they come out, and after they go their lovely bushes are still so pretty with their green leaves."

"But best of all is the visit they pay us every single spring. They are so small and dainty a lilac, their color is such a soft shade of lavender, they are so beautiful and so flowery and so soft and sweet, and they are so very, very fragrant that we should tell them how much we love them and how glad we are each year to see them."

"It is only right to tell nice creatures and things that we like them. It would be quite unfair any other way at all, and so we should tell the Persian lilacs that we love them and that we welcome them and that we are looking forward to seeing them next year."

"We know how the people love them, we know that for years they have looked forward to seeing the Persian lilacs in the spring and enjoying them right through the spring, too. We know how, after the other lilacs have come out, the Persian lilacs bloom and then they last longer than the others, because they have come later."

"Ah," the Persian lilacs said, "it is good of you all to be so kind to us. Our bushes are all very grateful. But you know we couldn't help but come out each spring. Beneath our bushes are beds of lilacs of the valley, the sweet, fragrant lilacs of the valley, that nestle in among their green leaves, and they always talk softly to us and send us their sweet greetings."

"Then the people are so fond of us, they love their Persian lilacs so, and all the flowers are so kind to us and help us add to the fragrance of the spring garden. There is no jealousy, and everyone is trying to add their sweetness to the whole. We will always come out, never fear!" they ended.

accuse the foreigner to be good American citizens. Mr. Editor, no one knows better than we miners what some of them are like when they have rum. Do you think we want them to have it?

Is the government going to give them a written permit to break her laws?

It does not appear fair to us miners for the government to close the doors of some hotels, then give others a permit to sell it—not over a bar and without license. Why those two men?

It is known in town that this man Dugan sells it from his cellar—hauls it to the woods, sells it to any one at a costly price. Why then does the government permit this but arrest a grocer for profiteering?

It is strange that a permit dated April 8th should be valid to deliver its whiskey in August. If we could work that long without it we sure could finish the year.

Osceola does not have much of a name as a town. If it had a high wall around it we might use it for a home for the feeble minded, because we have to have so many things to make us work.

Sir, if Dugan and McCarty are going to deal this out during the campaign we must remember that our wives and daughters will vote this fall and if they take to this way of working and voting, some of us miners may have empty dinner pails.

Where are our borough officers, do you ask? Well, we hardly know. They accept all permits like Mr. Crain and the miner takes the blame. Yes, we have a few good citizens, but they are modest, retiring men and do not care to meddle with the law violator.

We have not hard feelings toward you, Mr. Editor, nor toward your board of managers. You probably do not know us miners and you judge the town for what is done in it and there you are right. We just want to clear the miner of this dirty load and set it right in your readers' eyes. This lays between the two men you mention and the courts of Clearfield county.

ANNUAL ROWLES REUNION

The annual Rowles reunion will be held in Cathcart's grove at Olan, Pa., Saturday, September 4th, 1920.

The speakers for the day will be the following well known persons: Rev. Harry L. Jarrett, of New Millport, Hon. Matt Savage, W. A. Hagerty, Esq., A. R. Chase and James Connelly, of Clearfield. Each of these gentlemen has promised to be present and give a short address appropriate to the occasion.

Everybody is invited to be present and spend the day with us at our annual reunion. Make it a point to be there and greet our old friends of former years, as each year we miss some who we shall never meet again. Bring your baskets and help us celebrate our reunion. Come, everybody. Committee.

400 WOMEN WILL ENROLL AS VOTERS TODAY IN CITY

The women of Clearfield, at least a goodly number of them, propose to take advantage of the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution by registering for the purpose of voting at the coming November election.

Today and tomorrow are the days set apart under the election laws of the State of Pennsylvania for the
"fall or September" registry of voters
and the new voters have been directed to take advantage of this provision and enroll in their dearest election precincts for their first vote. Under the law the women must register two months or 60 days before the election and must pay a state or county tax within one month or 30 days of the election, which will be held on November 2d, 1920.

The assessors of the different wards opened the doors of their respective election houses at 9 o'clock this morning and in almost every case they found a number of anxious women waiting to be enrolled. The ladies were well posted on the details of the operation and lined up at the registers' desks like seasoned politicians.

Assessor W. A. Chase, Sr., of the First Ward, had enrolled 54 women voters up to 1 o'clock this afternoon.
The first woman to register in this ward was Mrs. Albert J. Logan, of Locust street.

For the Second Ward Charles A.
Hile was looking after the registration. His books contained a total of 91 names when he opened for business
at 1 o'clock after the noonday recess.
Mrs. Frank B. Reed, of South Second street, was the first to enroll in this ward.

Assessor Alex Watson of the Third Ward was kept busy all morning but we were unable to get his total at noon. Miss Ada Baker was first to register in this ward.

Assessor John M. Bowman was on the job in the Fourth Ward but we failed to get him on the phone for a report.

The women this year will only be required to pay 53 cents in order to get their vote. Next year they will be assessed for taxing purposes
whether they vote this year or not, so every woman in the town should register now and avail herself of the privilege finally accorded her to vote for the President of these United States.

The Assessors will be at the election houses tomorrow also, and those who failed to enroll today may do so tomorrow.

JOY RIDERS IN TROUBLE

A couple of local young men swiped
another fellow's car for a joy ride the other evening. They motored over to Philipsburg and during their absence
the State police were given the trail
and they promptly rounded up the joy riders and they are now under the painful necessity of explaining the whole proceeding to Judge Bell.

Mrs. S. B. Whitmarsh and Mr.
John Kennard have returned from spending a couple weeks in Rockton
and Lutherburg.

If Back Hurts Begin On salts

Flush the Kidneys at once when Backache or Bladder bothers—
Meat forms uric acid

No man or woman who eats meat
regularly can make a mistake occasionally, says a well known authority.
et forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. The famous salts is made from the acid

of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it
no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED IN BELFAST

Battling Factions Start Burning City

BELFAST, August 31—Martial law was declared in Belfast at noon today.

Fighting between Orangemen and Catholics which has broken out here during the past four days has assumed the aspects of a civil war. Virtually the whole of the adult population including hundreds of women were gradually being drawn into the fighting. Heavy reinforcements are being rushed here from Dublin on a special train. The total casualties are 19 killed and more than 200 wounded. Among the killed was a woman and a child. The rioting which previously has been limited to the shipyards and the Catholic district is spreading all over the city.

When the fighting first began the participants used clubs, bricks and their fists but today revolvers and even a few rifles made their appearance. Time and again a cordon of soldiers, some in armoured cars, went in among the fighters and with fixed bayonets pushed the opposing factions apart. Several soldiers and police were wounded.

The Orangemen, determined to drive all Catholics from Belfast are meeting with increasing resistance. Almost 200 fires have been started and the property damage is estimated at close to four million dollars. The Catholics are retaliating for the destroying of their homes and business places by setting fire to the Orangemen property. The situation is becoming more serious hourly.

LONDON, August 31—Terence MacSwiney, hunger striking Lord Mayor of Cork continued to hover between life and death today. The physician's verdict of MacSwiney's condition is the same as it has been for the past three days, that the Lord Mayor would live only a few hours. "We don't expect Terry to live much longer," said his brother as he left the prison after a night at the Lord Mayor's bedside.

WRANGEL MEETS WITH TWO DEFEATS POLISH PEACE MISSION ON WAY HOME

MOSCOW, August 31—General Wrangel has suffered a crushing defeat on two fronts in the Black Sea theatre of war according to communiques issued here today. Wrangel's Kuban expedition has been wiped out while the Crimean forces are being bottled up in the peninsula. "Wrangel's forces in Kuba have been completely annihilated," the statement said.

"In the northern part the column was completely beaten," the communique said. Another communique said that there was a possibility that the fighting would be resumed along practically the entire Polish front. The Bolshevik claim to have captured Belz, one of the northern defenses of Lemberg.

PARIS, August 31—The Polish delegation has returned to Warsaw from Minsk and the Russo-Polish armistice negotiations will be resumed in Riga next week according to reports received from Warsaw today.

U. S. WILL HOLD OPERATORS AND MINERS TO AWARD OF WAGE BOARD

WASHINGTON, August 31—The government will maintain a "firm attitude" toward the miners and operators affected by the award the Anthracite Coal Commission, authorities stated here today. The miners must not stop work and the operators must not raise prices, it was said. Completely disregarding the strike threat of the miners the Labor Department has shown, it was said, that the threat of the miners does not represent the majority of sentiment of the miners and is only largely that of outlaws and that union politics is playing a part.

SEEKING THE TRUTH

Every man, woman and child who reads newspapers was impressed by the charges preferred by Governor Cox in which he alleged that the Republican Campaign Committee had a campaign fund of fifteen million dollars. Not so much because of the size of it but rather because of the publicity attendant to the heralded exposure. It will be recalled that a great pilgrimage of the faithful went to Pittsburgh to be eye-witness and ear-hearers. For two hours they sat under the spell of soap-box oratory and with such skill and dexterity was the subject handled that supposition appeared as fact and surmise as certainty. Mr. Cox made the statement as one of fact and then proceeded to assume that this great amount of money was to be spent illegally, crookedly and for corruptive purposes. Thus his masterful presentation of the case Mr. Cox put the Republican managers on the defensive.

Today we have the other side. The evidence speaks for itself. It is not for us to render a verdict for our readers. We only wish to urge them to read the evidence as it was taken under oath and under parliamentary rules where Billingsgate, gallery plays and wholesale denunciation of this and that are not permitted to cloud the real issue. Platform argument is always more propaganda. We have all sat under the mystic charm and spell of the platform orator and while he was talking we nodded our approval and loosened our purse strings. But once we break away from his presence and sit down to reason for ourselves we find that his logic is held together only by the woven chain of partisan evidence.

Now read the testimony of Mr. Hays. Remember that Mr. Hays is testifying under oath and with a knowledge that his every word is to be printed broadcast and that the conduct of the campaign in the future will have to tie up with his statements. His answers are direct and to the point. He says that $4,000,000 more will be required to properly advertise Mr. Harding.

Now read the testimony of Mr. Cummins the Democratic chairman. He tells the truth about the campaign expenditures of the Democratic Party in 1916 when he says they were almost $2,500,000. But how about his statement that only a sum one-fifth larger will be required to carry on the Cox campaign? Is it not true that Mr. Wilson was the candidate in 1916 and that in conducting the campaign from the White House it could be conducted much cheaper than from the middle west? Is it not true that every Federal office holder was giving his time to the forwarding of the Wilson candidacy? Is it not true that the Creel organization supported by the government was printing tons of publicity matter expounding to the people of the country on the virtues of Woodrow Wilson and the desirability of making him the dictator of the world? Is it not true that every governmental agency in the country was boosting his candidacy? In this campaign the Cox campaign must largely pay its own way. Anybody with any common sense will know that the dollar of 1916 will not buy fifty cents worth today. The printing will cost more than double. Hotels and traveling expenses will be more than double. Public speakers will cost more than double. Bands and halls will be more than double. Yet Mr. Cummins guesses that twenty per cent. more will be required this year over 1916. It is indeed a guess and judging from costs of today we venture to predict that when the books are closed the Democratic committee will have spent dollar for dollar with the Republican Committee.

There has not been one whit of evidence produced in support of the charge that a few are seeking to buy the presidency or

The Motive

Pennsylvanians felt kindly to Mr. Cox for recognizing our state by coming into it to make his "disclosures." Thus he recognized our power at the polls. But what was the real motive? Was it that Mr. Cox is a great apostle of right, justice and honesty? Was it just a political grand stand play?

Or was it a deliberate attempt to wear our citizens away from a just and righteous indignation over certain conditions which are of Democratic making.

Pennsylvania people have not been strong for the Wilson league plan and just prior to the announcement of the Cox speech at Pittsburgh they had welcomed the news that Mr. Harding favored "staying out."

And Pennsylvanians have grown tired of the prohibition enforcement fiasco by which favored politicians in Scranton, Clearfield, Elk counties and other points are permitted to buy thousands of gallons of liquor under medicinal permit. This indignation at the shameful flouting of one of the most beneficent laws in the history of mankind has spread to all four corners of the United States. In the west and in the east Mr. Cox saw the flood of liquor loosed by the gates of the administration law enforcement officers approaching in political death dealing waves.

It was to stem this tide that Mr. Cox and his managers saw the similarity between the liquor flood and the slush fund and hoped to stop the wave of "dry" sentiment by throwing against it counter charges of a nature that would naturally carry great weight with those who have the morals of the nation at heart and want real enforcement. They staged the fight in Pennsylvania but the liquor flood brushed the slush fund aside and will continue to be the big issue.

Yes, Mr. Cox says he is for law enforcement but he also says that he is in full accord with Mr. Wilson; will continue his way of doing things; be an understudy. He approves of the Wilson administration and defends it. Not one word does he say about enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment other than to approve the present enforcement.

Mr. Cox cannot becloud the real issues of the campaign by grand stand plays. On the league and liquor the campaign must be fought. A man is known by the company he keeps. Can you find a liquor man rooting for Harding? Is not every man in Pennsylvania who has a medical permit for liquor a Democrat? Do you know a man who wants a modification of the Volstead act? He is for Cox, is he not?

Thank God the women are to have a vote.

THE MORTGAGE

Writers of the old-time melodrama and of the cheap novel that preceded it made much capital of the mortgage. In their hands the claim against the old homestead or the newly-built cottage of the poor but virtuous young hero became a weapon as deadly as the modern high explosive bomb. According to their way of presenting the matter, the man who put a mortgage on his land or house placed himself at the mercy of some miserly old Shylock who henceforth devoted himself to plotting the ruin of the mortgagee in order that he might possess himself of the property in question.

The crux of many a ten-cent matinee hinged upon the appearance of this old skinflint to dispossess the unfortunate widow or the struggling young hero on the day the mortgage fell due, with no funds in bank with which to meet it. And doubtless a lot of that sort of thing actually was practiced in real life in the early days of the republic.

But not so now. Today the mortgage is a recognized business instrument of vital importance in 75 per cent. of all real estate transactions. It is no a sign of poverty but of thrift, and nobody forecloses a mortgage except when driven to it by dire extremity.

And so the ancient horror of the mortgage that might spell ruin has been dissipated by the understanding that the mortgage has become a means of property holding and ownership that without it would be impossible.

It is a real pleasure to receive such a letter as is directed to this paper today from the Osceola miner. The editor knows as well as anybody else and better than most people that no more glaring falsehood was ever stated than that miners must have liquor to do good work. His six years residence in a mining town was enough to furnish proof of his previous belief that a miner was no different from any other man and that his greatest enemy was the fellow who insisted on making a few dollars by telling a court that a license was necessary to keep the men contented. Neither is there anything wrong with Osceola or any other town which happens to be the abiding place of those who are the truckers of booze. Rather is it up to the good people of the balance of the county to take such steps as will for all time put a stop to the farcical enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Have Drak Hair And Look Young

Don't Stay Gray. Nobody can tell when you darken gray faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it thru your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

NURSING SERVICE IS RAPIDLY EXPANDING

This American Red Cross Work
Flourishing in Small Towns
Throughout Country.

More than 37,000 graduate nurses have been enrolled in the American Red Cross to date and its department of nursing is daily increasing this enrollment.

The department of nursing has been authorized to maintain an adequate reserve of nurses for the army and navy. It will continue to supply the needs of the United States Public Health Service to which it has assigned more than 1,000 nurses in the last year.

It will assist in establishing proper nursing service in foreign countries where the American Red Cross has organized hospitals, dispensaries and schools for nurses. Courses in home hygiene and care of the sick have been started for thousands of women who have never received any education in this direction. Rural nursing which was in its infancy a short while ago has been put ahead at least a decade through the work of the department of nursing and local Red Cross chapters.

Public health nursing has been extended to many rural communities and now flourishes actively in hundreds of small towns and counties. Nearly a thousand efficient nurses have already been assigned to this kind of work.

The department of nursing is working with other organizations in a year's campaign in recruiting nurses for training schools in educating the general public as to standards of nursing, education and in showing communities their responsibility toward schools of nursing. It will endeavor to meet all these needs as well as to continue the enrollment of dietitians who will be utilized as instructors in home dietetics, in developing nutritional clinics, and in supplying dietitians for the United States Public Health Service and the civilian hospitals.

The Nursing Service will continue to offer to women and young girls the opportunity of securing instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick in every community in the country. This instruction has not only laid the foundation for public health but in some places has given impetus to the establishment of hospitals and community school houses.

"As a community profits by the work of the nurse," says Miss Clara D. Noves, director of the department of nursing, "it is logical that the community should be aroused to its responsibility. The American Red Cross stands ready to help in a general campaign of recruiting and must have the support, sympathy and understanding of the medical profession as well as the intelligent cooperation of the people at large."

HOME SERVICE FOR EVERYBODY IN NEED

Do you know what the present day Home Service of the American Red Cross is?

Many people do not know that, besides completing the work for ex-service men, especially the disabled it provides the same neighborly service to families in general that it formerly gave families of soldiers, sailors and marines.

"Home Service covers a wide and varied field," says Frederick C. Munroe, general manager of the American Red Cross. "It gives aid to families in solving such problems as budget planning, marketing, tiding over times of financial stress, keeping children in school, helping crippled children, widowed and deserted mothers, children backward in school and children in conflict with the law. It renders service to the homeless and transient, to the illiterate, to tenement dwellers, to the unemployed, and gives friendly assistance and advice to foreign speaking groups."

In addition to helping families in the solution of their own problems, Home Service helps in strengthening the weak spots in the social life of communities. It joins hands with others to make communities safer, healthier and happier.

Organizing action along lines in which the community is already interested is one of the objects of Home Service. It has established community meetings, patriotic celebrations, pigments and picnics. Rest rooms, recreation facilities, play supervisors and moving pictures have been provided. Through Home Service other agencies are influenced to bring out improved commercial amusements and better school facilities and to promote traveling libraries as well as to secure country agricultural and home demonstration agents.

If you need assistance at any time go to the secretary of the nearest Red Cross chapter and describe the situation. Your confidence will be strictly respected and every possible effort will be made to aid you.

American Red Cross Roll Call.
The Fourth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be held this year from Armistice Day November 11 to Thanksgiving Day November 25 inclusive. During this period the men and women of the United States will pay their annual dues and renew their membership.

HAYES REFUTES COX CHARGES

Mr. Cummings said that, as compared to the 6,000 persons who have contributed to the 1920 Republican campaign, under Mr. Hayes plan of "centralized" subscriptions, 200 persons in 1916 gave an average of about $5 each, to the Democratic ticket.

How many potential contributors? Senator Kenyon asked.

A very small percentage?

How many Federal employees?

A very small percentage?

Were they solicited?

I don't know, but I think Mr. Hayes, the Democratic ticket, under his figures showing the number who did contribute.

How much did you raise in 1916?

Senator Kenyon continued.

My memory is about $2,000,000, that we spent that amount. You must remember we had a deficit of $600,000, which we paid off later.

While you were chairman did you, in July of last year, for my quote for the 1920 campaign? Senator Spencer asked referring to the new report of $10,000,000 fund, which Mr. Hayes had called to the committee's attention in the day.

Not to my knowledge? Mr. Cummings said.

Democrats' 1920 Expenses.

"How much do you think it would be necessary to use in the campaign?"

You are asking for my opinion. I don't say we ought to have $500,000 more than we spent in 1916.

You had $2,300,000 in 1916.

Yes.

"And in your judgment it would require $2,800,000 to adequately finance the 1920 campaign?"

Well, there is no limit to what could be paid for a fair decent campaign with the proper amount of publicity and speakers. I should say that estimate would not be far off.

I am sure, didn't you rent the second, third and fourth floor of the Bond Building in Washington as headquarters for your financial campaign?

Yes, they were rented?

And you had 270 or 300 employees there?

I think so.

"And didn't you have 150 electric typewriters at $100 each?"

I believe so.

"Well, with all that machinery, 250 or 300 employees, three floors of a great office building and 150 electric typewriters, didn't you have an idea of how much you were going to raise, whether it would be $5,000,000 or $10,000,000?"

There was no definitely fixed amount. Let the exact figure estimate, I would have to refer you to Mr. Jameson.

During the Hayes examination earlier in the day it was brought out that the Republican budget did not provide for the increased railroad rates in the estimate, nor for the increased electric rate, nor for the increased cost of all campaign items over four years ago.

In fact, Senator Kenyon observed, "the cost of campaigning has increased with the cost of living."

Senator Pomeroy and Governor Cox's quotation from the official bulletin of the Republican national committee, had Mr. Hayes verify them from a file of the publication and then asked him how he planned the frequent use of the word "quasi" as applied to the various cities. Mr. Hayes replied that the amount to be expected from a given State had undoubtedly been discussed by someone somewhere, but that he supposed the goal set in various cities, if such goal were set, were laid out by the State organizations.

Cox's False List

The witness always referred to the list given out by Governor Cox as this false quota list.

He denied positively that he had ever suggested that contribution of more than $1,000 from an individual be proportioned among the donors, or clerk or other employee.

That is a subjective matter to be decided by Mr. Hayes.

The only important conference in which I participated was a telephonic one with Mr. Hayes.

An ineffective attempt to say that the Republican National Committee had placed on a false quota list of propaganda in foreign language newspapers, as made by Senator Reed, when he took up the question of the committee's action, was denied that any such contract had been made.

No Corruption Fund

The $10,000,000 corruption fund alleged by Governor Cox was denied by Mr. Hayes.

It is a statement as a general statement.

"THE CAPITOL"

From the notable stage success by AUGUSTUS THOMAS

The drama of a woman's fight for her honor and her husband. The story of a fugitive wife who returned to right the wrongs she had done and to trap a crafty plotter. Produced in Washington, D. C., at the seat of government, where ambition brought a beautiful girl to disaster.

The KITCHEN CABINET

A commonplace life, we say and we sigh. Yet why do we sigh as we sigh? The commonplace sun in the commonplace sky. Makes up the commonplace day.

The moon and the stars are commonplace things. The flower that blooms and the bird that sings. But sad were the world and dark the lot. If the flowers faded and the sun were not. And if all who seek each his separate end. Out of commonplace lives made his beautiful world. —Susan Coolidge

FOOD FOR THE ILL.

Indigestion, stomach trouble of various kinds as well as intestinal troubles have so many forms and causes that it is never safe to trust one's own ideas in regard to the kind of food one should eat. A physician's diagnosis will give a list of the various foods it is safe to eat; however it is probable that food which is lightly toasted on the outside soft and full of moisture inside is unwholesome for the most healthy stomach. These should be made of bread at least two days old cut in half inch thick and dried for a few moments in the oven to remove any moisture then while still hot from the oven slowly toasted a golden brown. Too many cooks serve toast by the recipe given by the small boy—'toast and until black then scrape it at the kitchen sink.'

Eggs, milk and combinations of eggs and milk when carefully prepared in regard to the one who is to eat the dish are foods which will be eaten with comfort.

Custards of all kinds cooked just long enough to be smooth and velvety are not unwholesome though served often.

Fried foods of all kinds should be eliminated as they are especially hard to digest.

Fruit jellies, jellies, gelatine dishes and sea moss are desserts which may be commonly served in ordinary cases.

Apple Custard.—Take five well beaten eggs add a quart of milk and one pint of strained apple sauce. Sweeten and flavor to taste and bake carefully until firm. Set the pan of custard into a pan of hot water to bake.

CARE FOR WOUNDED BUDDIES

Nation-Wide Movement to Aid and Cheer Thousands of Wounded Men Now in Hospitals.

A nation-wide movement to care for the 17,000 ex-service men who are now in hospitals suffering from disabilities incurred in the service, has been launched by the American Legion through its Americanism commission. Bulletins have been issued to state chairmen asking them to organize local Legion post committees to co-operate with the hospitals for the entertainment of the men in the wards, and for their care after discharge.

Efforts will be made to provide visitors for those men who are confined to hospitals to mitigate the loneliness of their enforced inactivity, and in this part of the program the Women's Auxiliary is expected to be of particular value.

To men who are discharged individual assistance will be given by members of the local Legion post in securing work and in straightening out any difficulties that may arise in the matter of compensation, insurance and so on. A system of interstate co-operation will provide for every man who leaves a hospital in one state, a welcome in the state for which he is bound.

"If there is any one thing that all members of the Legion are agreed on more than anything else, it is that wounded men should be generously taken care of," declared Arthur Woods, chairman of the Americanism commission. "It is the personal contact with the man that counts. We must show him that we are genuine friends. And certainly, no man ever needs a shove upward more than a discharged, disabled service man who has to make up so much lost time under such tremendous handicaps. I know you will agree that this is a challenge to service on our part which we, of the Legion, will not ignore."

WAR ENDED KENTUCKY FEUDS

Youths and Mountaineer Parents Who Were Estranged, Brought Together at County Reunion.

The war has brought peace to the embattled mountaineers of the famous feudist counties of Garrard and Lincoln in Kentucky. For more than a generation these neighboring but not neighboring counties were estranged—the inhabitants of one being sworn enemies of the natives of the other and many were the brushings between them, which, though not bloodless altogether, happily produced no fatalities.

Then came the war and the youth of Garrard and Lincoln counties marched off together. They went overseas together and fought the Boche together, sharing together the dangers, discomforts and great moments of battle. The sea stood between them and the old quarrel at home. Little by little the ancient grudge faded away until the boys from Lincoln and the boys from Garrard were actually fraternizing in the rest billets back of the line.

They came home together. For the moment they had had enough fighting. They could see no point in keeping alive the traditional quarrel between their respective counties. So, recently officers of the American Legion posts of Stanford, county seat of Lincoln county and Lancaster, county seat of Garrard county, got together and agreed upon a grand reunion and "peace" celebration of the residents of both counties. The affair was held under the auspices of the Legion and old feudists whose sons shared the same shell hole together in France, shook hands for the first time in their lives and called it quits.

VETERAN OF TWO GREAT WARS

Adolph Lowe of Lansdale, Pa., Participated in Both the Civil and World Conflicts.

With the war between North and South in which he fought more than 50 years behind him, Adolph L. Lowe of Lansdale, Pa., in 1917 again entered the service of his country in the war with Germany and today at seventy-nine is one of the most remarkable members of the American Legion. His age, naturally enough, debilitated him from going to sea three years ago with the navy, which he joined as a carpenter's mate and he was assigned to the base at Cherry-stone Island, Va., and later to the Norfolk navy aviation center, the Portsmouth naval hospital and the Virginia Beach rifle range.

Although he was denied sea service in the World war, Mr. Lowe saw enough action to last most men the rest of their lives during the Civil war. He took part in the bombardment of Fort Sumter and saw the Merrimac ablaze. Later in the blockade of Charleston and in naval engagements along the coast he went through hard and severe fighting.

Mr. Lowe says that the sea stories of Benmore Cooper first brought to him the desire to follow the sea for a career. In 1859 he shipped for South America and the following year in Rio de Janeiro he swam a mile to the shore to sign as a midshipman on the U. S. sloop of war Sentinel.

EARLE WILLIAMS

"Don't change your company," is the advice Earle Williams gives to young screen players, and then he adds, "providing you are with the right company." Earle Williams is one of the few film players who has never changed his habitation from one studio to another. He commenced his career 12 years ago with the Vitaphone star family and has never strayed from the fold. "The Wolf," visualized from Eugene Walters' famous stage play, and "The Fortune Hunter," from Winchell Smith's play, have been the means of emphasizing Mr. Williams' ability and popular attraction recently.

Getting 'em ready for school

As the opening date for school approaches we experience about the same feeling—not that we're going to enroll, but we're sort of "keyed up" in preparation. This "keying up" is going to be a great thing for the parents of Clearfield and vicinity. We want your boy to be well dressed whether he starts in a ward school, Junior High or the High School. And you can do it for less money as we're going to give you a special

20 Per Cent Discount On 'All Boys' Suits From today until school starts

This includes suits for all the boys—boys of the first grade, boys of grammar school, boys of High School, boys wearing short trousers, boys wearing long trousers, boys from 6 to 19 years old. They're good suits, too, suits that will stand their share of football, basket ball and every sort of rough usage that a husky, sturdy lad can give them.

The Other Things He'll Need

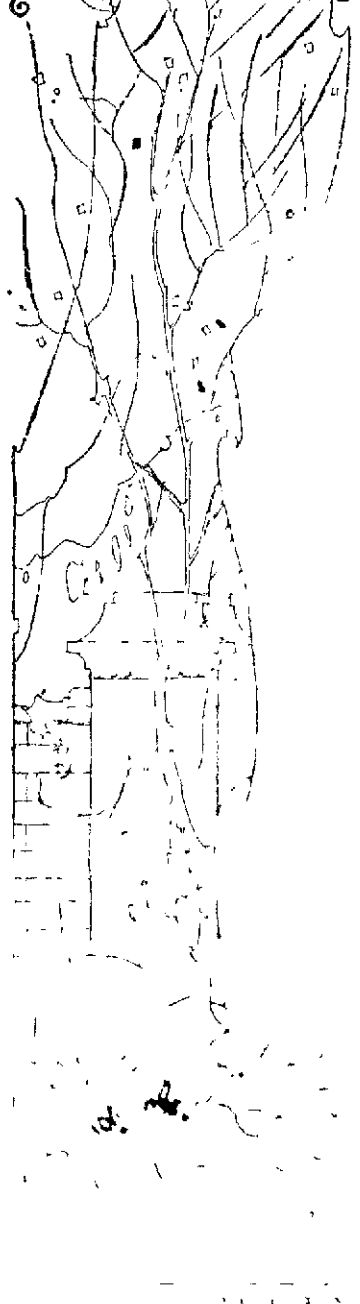

We have an array of the other things your boy's going to need—shirts, caps, hosiery, neckwear—and these are so economically priced that you mothers will be glad to get the good news that it isn't going to cost so much after all.

POWER, sturdiness and dependability have been qualities of Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Cars from the time that the name Buick first became linked with the automobile industry. Today, in equal measure as in the past, the Buick Motor Company is dedicated to a continuance of the policy that has caused the Buick car to occupy the position it holds in the public mind.

To all that the name Buick has meant in twenty years of automobile history, the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick brings that grace of movement, that refinement of every line and feature, that sheer beauty of design which inspire a pride of ownership in a fine motor car.

The new Buick line comprises seven models, one for every possible demand. Each has the famed Buick Valve-in-Head Motor, as rugged and powerful as ever, yet refined into a mechanism of unusual quietness.

The improved radiator, hood and cowl lines give a finished touch of trimness to the body, yet without any sacrifice of Buick individuality.

A more resilient spring suspension gives these new Buick models a riding comfort as delightful as their exterior appearance is pleasing.

Each of these seven models has its own value particularly adapted to a distinct class of service. All possess those inherent Buick qualities that assure the owner the uninterrupted use of his investment.

THE PERSIAN LILACS.

"It is almost time that we should go," said the Persian lilacs in the old-fashioned garden. "Still, our small green leaves will be with you and they will stay until the autumn comes, but we, the flowers, must leave, for the summer is on now and we are ready to go. We like to stay until the very last of spring, right up to the early summer. But then we must leave."

"So must we," said the double white narcissus flowers. They were very fragrant, and as they spoke a lovely narcissus fragrance filled the whole air.

"We leave our leaves, too," said the little myrtle flowers. They were so deep a blue and so sweet and dainty, snuggled among their vine leaves.

"But," they added, "our leaves will be used for birthday wreaths. They make such good wreaths, as there are long pieces of us like vines."

"Yes," they continued, "we must be going soon, though some of our blossoms do come out once in a while through the summer, to tell the garden flowers and the myrtle leaves that the whole myrtle family will blossom next spring again."

"How fine our leaves are for the birthday wreaths," continued the myrtle wreaths; "ah, we will do our part throughout the summer."

"We know you will," said the myrtle blossoms.

"We must be leaving soon, too," said the pink flowering almond.

"You have looked so lovely in your soft pink dresses," said the double narcissus flowers. "You dress in such a springlike fashion. You look so lovely and so gay and so bright. You really do know just how to dress in the spring. And all the pink flowering almond bushes are so lovely."

"Ah, we're very grateful to you for saying so," the flowering almonds answered. "We love the springtime, and we love seeing the other flowers. We love the myrtle blossoms and the white lilacs and the purple lilacs and the dear Persian lilacs and the jonquills

As the flowering almonds mentioned the different flowers, they all bowed their pretty heads and said: "Thank you dear, flowering almonds," and there was a lovely fragrance of all the spring flowers throughout the garden as they whispered their thanks, which were carried about by the breeze brothers.

"You know," said one of the flowering almonds, "I think a special vote of thanks should be given to the Persian lilacs. Every year they come out, and after they go their lovely bushes are still so pretty with their green leaves."

"But best of all is the visit they pay us every single spring. They are so small and dainty a lilac, their color is such a soft shade of lavender, they are so beautiful and so flowery and so soft and sweet, and they are so very, very fragrant that we should tell them how much we love them and how glad we are each year to see them."

"It is only right to tell nice creatures and things that we like them. It would be quite unfair any other way at all, and so we should tell the Persian lilacs that we love them and that we welcome them and that we are looking forward to seeing them next year."

"We know how the people love them, we know that for years they have looked forward to seeing the Persian lilacs in the spring and enjoying them right through the spring, too. We know how, after the other lilacs have come out, the Persian lilacs bloom and then they last longer than the others, because they have come later."

"Ah," the Persian lilacs said, "it is good of you all to be so kind to us. Our bushes are all very grateful. But you know we couldn't help but come out each spring. Beneath our bushes are beds of lilacs of the valley, the sweet, fragrant lilacs of the valley, that nestle in among their green leaves, and they always talk softly to us and send us their sweet greetings."

"Then the people are so fond of us, they love their Persian lilacs so, and all the flowers are so kind to us and help us add to the fragrance of the spring garden. There is no jealousy, and everyone is trying to add their sweetness to the whole. We will always come out, never fear!" they ended.

accuse the foreigner to be good American citizens. Mr. Editor, no one knows better than we miners what some of them are like when they have rum. Do you think we want them to have it?

Is the government going to give them a written permit to break her laws?

It does not appear fair to us miners for the government to close the doors of some hotels, then give others a permit to sell it—not over a bar and without license. Why those two men?

It is known in town that this man Dugan sells it from his cellar—hauls it to the woods, sells it to any one at a costly price. Why then does the government permit this but arrest a grocer for profiteering?

It is strange that a permit dated April 8th should be valid to deliver its whiskey in August. If we could work that long without it we sure could finish the year.

Osceola does not have much of a name as a town. If it had a high wall around it we might use it for a home for the feeble minded, because we have to have so many things to make us work.

Sir, if Dugan and McCarty are going to deal this out during the campaign we must remember that our wives and daughters will vote this fall and if they take to this way of working and voting, some of us miners may have empty dinner pails.

Where are our borough officers, do you ask? Well, we hardly know. They accept all permits like Mr. Crain and the miner takes the blame. Yes, we have a few good citizens, but they are modest, retiring men and do not care to meddle with the law violator.

We have not hard feelings toward you, Mr. Editor, nor toward your board of managers. You probably do not know us miners and you judge the town for what is done in it and there you are right. We just want to clear the miner of this dirty load and set it right in your readers' eyes. This lays between the two men you mention and the courts of Clearfield county.

ANNUAL ROWLES REUNION

The annual Rowles reunion will be held in Cathcart's grove at Olanta, Pa., Saturday, September 4th, 1920.

The speakers for the day will be the following well known persons: Rev. Harry L. Jarrett, of New Millport, Hon. Matt Savage, W. A. Hagerty, Esq., A. R. Chase and James Connelly, of Clearfield. Each of these gentlemen has promised to be present and give a short address appropriate to the occasion.

Everybody is invited to be present and spend the day with us at our annual reunion. Make it a point to be there and greet our old friends of former years, as each year we miss some who we shall never meet again. Bring your baskets and help us celebrate our reunion. Come, everybody. Committee.

Fall Millinery Display

Presenting An Exhibition Of Chic And Modish Millinery

Days Of Review And Choice

Thursday, Friday And Saturday

September 2nd., 3rd. and 4th.

You Are Cordially Invited To Attend This Exclusive Exposition Of All Fall Millinery Modes

These will be days of transcending importance to every woman who wants to be correctly informed on what the leading artists have created for Fall wear.

Our entire display has a charming air of smartness such as every youth-loving woman admires. Its new shapes, designs and trimmings proclaim a happy note which is in accord with the demands of the new season of 1920.

400 WOMEN WILL ENROLL AS VOTERS TODAY IN CITY

The women of Clearfield, at least a goodly number of them, propose to take advantage of the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution by registering for the purpose of voting at
the coming November election.

Today and tomorrow are the days
set apart under the election laws of the State of Pennsylvania for the
"fall or September" registry of voters
and the new voters have been directed
to take advantage of this provision
and enroll in their dearest election
precincts for their first vote. Under the law the women must register two months or 60 days before the election
and must pay a state or county tax
within one month or 30 days of the election, which will be held on November 2d, 1920.

The assessors of the different wards
opened the doors of their respective election houses at 9 o'clock this morning and in almost every case they found a number of anxious women waiting to be enrolled. The ladies were well posted on the details of the operation and lined up at the registers' desks like seasoned politicians.

Assessor W. A. Chase, Sr., of the
First Ward, had enrolled 54 women
voters up to 1 o'clock this afternoon.
The first woman to register in this ward was Mrs. Albert J. Logan, of Locust street.

For the Second Ward Charles A.
Hile was looking after the registration. His books contained a total of 91 names when he opened for business
at 1 o'clock after the noonday recess.
Mrs. Frank B. Reed, of South Second street, was the first to enroll in this ward.

Assessor Alex Watson of the Third
Ward was kept busy all morning but we were unable to get his total at noon. Miss Ada Baker was first to register in this ward.

Assessor John M. Bowman was on the job in the Fourth Ward but we failed to get him on the phone for a report.

The women this year will only be required to pay 53 cents in order to get their vote. Next year they will be assessed for taxing purposes
whether they vote this year or not, so
every woman in the town should register now and avail herself of the privilege finally accorded her to vote
for the President of these United States.

The Assessors will be at the election houses tomorrow also, and those who failed to enroll today may do so tomorrow.

JOY RIDERS IN TROUBLE

A couple of local young men swiped
another fellow's car for a joy ride the other evening. They motored over to Philipsburg and during their absence
the State police were given the trail
and they promptly rounded up the joy
riders and they are now under the painful necessity of explaining the whole proceeding to Judge Bell.

Mrs. S. B. Whitmarsh and Mr.
John Kennard have returned from spending a couple weeks in Rockton
and Lutherburg.

If Back Hurts Begin On salts

Flush the Kidneys at once when
Backache or Bladder bothers—
Meat forms uric acid

No man or woman who eats meat
regularly can make a mistake occasionally, says a well known authority.
et forms uric acid which clogs the
kidney pores so they sluggishly filter
or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in
the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from

any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. The famous salts is made from the acid
of grapes and lemon juice, combined
with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys
and stimulate them to activity, also
to neutralize the acids in urine so it
no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and
the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Scant Comfort.
One positive service performed by visiting wife's relatives is eating as much that there aren't so many leftovers for next day.—Ohio State Journal.
